

Walden Point-of-View Text

Okay, welcome to the POV, point of view, lessons/stories for “Walden.” Same story, different points of view. The first point of view starts with “Since she was 16...” Since she was 16 years old.

* * * * *

Since she was 16 years old Inka has wanted to build a beautiful castle. She has wanted to build a beautiful castle starting when she was 16 until recently. Since she was 16 Inka has wanted to build a big, wonderful, beautiful castle. She has dreamed of living in the castle like a princess by herself.

Who has dreamed of living in a castle by herself like a princess?

Inka, Inka has dreamed of living in a castle by herself like a princess.

What has she dreamed?

Well, since she was 16 she has dreamed of living in a castle like a princess by herself.

She has dreamed about this every day. Since she was 16 she has dreamed about being in a beautiful castle. She has dreamed about living like a princess. Every day she has dreamed about this. When she was 17 she dreamed about it. When she was 18, 19, 20, 21, continuing...starting when she was 16 and continuing. She has dreamed and dreamed and dreamed. Well one day she decided to advance towards her dream. She decided to take action. And so she did, she advanced towards her dream.

In fact she endeavored to build a castle out of diamonds. She tried to build the diamond castle but it was too difficult. Diamonds are very expensive and big diamonds are very heavy. And so she stopped. Next, she asked her friends for help. She established a team of builders to help her build the castle. Every day they worked on the castle. But they didn’t build a diamond castle. They built a huge castle out of gum. But that’s not all. The foundation of the castle was made of spaghetti. They built a gum castle with a spaghetti foundation. Eventually they finished the castle. And they all lived together in the castle, Inka and her friends. In fact, they lived happily ever after.

Okay, that's the end of our first point of view story. Let's next go to the future, back to the future. Are you ready? So now I have this idea, a story that will happen in the future. Hasn't happened yet, it's going to happen in the future.

* * * * *

So there will be a woman named Inka. Inka's gonna want to build a castle, a huge beautiful castle. She'll want to live in this castle like a princess. In fact, her dream will be to live in a castle like a princess by herself. That's gonna be her dream. One day she'll advance towards her dream. She will take action. First, she's gonna endeavor to build a castle out of diamonds. She'll try to build a castle out of diamonds. But there will be a problem. Diamonds will be too expensive, of course. Diamonds are too expensive. They're very expensive. And diamonds, big diamonds, are very heavy. So she'll stop trying to build a diamond castle.

Next she'll ask her friends for help. She'll establish a team of builders. They're gonna work every day building the castle. Every day they'll go to work. Every day they'll work and work and work to build the castle. But they won't build a normal castle. They won't build a diamond castle. They'll build a castle out of gum. They're gonna build a huge, giant, super-big gum castle. But that's not all. They'll build a spaghetti foundation under the castle. The castle will have a spaghetti foundation. It'll be a gum castle with a spaghetti foundation. Now when they finish, Inka won't live alone in the castle, no, no, no. She's gonna invite all her friends to live with her and they will. They'll all live happily ever after in the gum castle with the spaghetti foundation.
